

Listening and Understanding

	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Year 6
Substantive knowledge & Skills	I can listen to and recognise familiar words and simple phrases. I can understand familiar greetings and simple questions about myself. I can understand and respond to simple classroom instructions. I can identify familiar vocabulary when I hear it, including numbers, colours and classroom objects. I can listen to and repeat French words and phrases, imitating pronunciation and intonation. I can use actions, images and context to help me understand unfamiliar spoken language. I can recognise some familiar sound patterns in spoken French.	I can understand familiar words, phrases and questions spoken clearly. I can follow a wider range of classroom instructions without relying on English. I can listen for specific information in a short spoken sentence or exchange. I can understand familiar questions about activities, time, dates, places and weather. I can recognise numbers and times when I hear them in familiar contexts. I can identify the main idea of a short piece of spoken French when the topic is familiar. I can use familiar vocabulary and context to work out the meaning of a spoken phrase. I can recognise and reproduce familiar French sound patterns with increasing accuracy.	I can understand the main points of short spoken passages on familiar topics. I can listen for specific details in sentences and short conversations. I can understand familiar questions and respond appropriately without needing them to be translated. I can recognise whether someone is speaking about themselves or another person. I can recognise familiar positive and negative forms when I hear them. I can understand spoken language relating to school, family, food, places, holidays and everyday activities. I can use context, familiar vocabulary and grammatical clues to work out the meaning of some unfamiliar language. I can distinguish increasingly accurately between familiar French sounds and sound combinations.	I can understand the main points and some specific details in longer spoken passages on familiar topics. I can follow a short conversation or exchange containing familiar language spoken at an appropriate pace. I can understand questions and instructions in a range of familiar everyday contexts. I can identify key information including times, prices, places, activities and opinions. I can recognise when a speaker gives an opinion and identify some of the reasons they give. I can recognise whether a speaker is referring to present activities or future plans in familiar contexts. I can use context, grammatical knowledge and familiar vocabulary to infer the meaning of some unfamiliar words and phrases. I can respond appropriately to spoken French with increasing independence and without relying on English translation.

Vocabulary	Bonjour, salut, au revoir, ça va ?, écoutez, regardez, lisez, asseyez-vous, levez-vous, écrivez, chantez, numbers 1–20, colours	Quelle heure est-il ?, quel temps fait-il ?, où vas-tu ?, numbers 1–60, days, months, time, weather, directions	J'ai, je n'ai pas, il a, elle a, il est, elle est, j'aime, je n'aime pas, je voudrais, où vas-tu ?, qu'est-ce que... ?, familiar topic vocabulary	Qu'est-ce que tu fais ?, qu'est-ce que tu vas faire ?, on va, je vais, parce que, d'abord, ensuite, enfin, je préfère, c'est combien ?, familiar topic vocabulary

Speaking and Communication

	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Year 6
Substantive knowledge & Skills	I can repeat familiar French words and phrases with increasingly accurate pronunciation. I can use familiar greetings and say goodbye. I can introduce myself and give simple information about myself, including my name and age. I can ask and answer simple familiar questions. I can say numbers, colours and other familiar vocabulary aloud. I can name familiar people, animals, objects and parts of the body. I can use simple words and phrases to describe myself or another person. I can express a simple opinion using a familiar phrase. I can take part in a short, rehearsed exchange with another person.	I can ask and answer familiar questions using complete phrases. I can give simple information about activities, times, dates and places. I can describe people and familiar objects using appropriate adjectives. I can express likes, dislikes and simple opinions. I can make a polite request using familiar language. I can ask for and understand simple information when shopping. I can ask for and give simple directions. I can talk about the weather in different places. I can use familiar vocabulary and sentence structures to adapt a rehearsed exchange. I can speak in short sentences with increasingly accurate pronunciation and intonation.	I can initiate and respond to familiar questions with increasing independence. I can give information about myself, my family and other people. I can describe people, places and everyday activities using a range of familiar vocabulary. I can use positive and negative forms when speaking. I can express opinions and preferences about familiar topics. I can ask for food and other items politely and respond appropriately in a short transactional exchange. I can ask for and give directions using sequencing language. I can talk about where I am going and what I am going to do. I can adapt familiar sentence structures to communicate new information. I can sustain a short conversation by asking and answering a sequence of familiar questions.	I can initiate and sustain a conversation on a familiar topic with increasing independence. I can ask and answer a range of familiar questions without relying on a written model. I can give increasingly detailed information about myself, other people and everyday life. I can describe activities and routines using familiar verbs and time expressions. I can express and justify opinions using simple reasons. I can compare preferences using familiar conjunctions and structures. I can talk about plans and future activities using familiar future constructions. I can participate in practical exchanges, including ordering food, asking about prices and buying tickets. I can use repair strategies, such as repetition or rephrasing, when communication becomes difficult.

				I can adapt previously learned vocabulary and structures to communicate in a new but familiar situation. I can speak with increasingly accurate pronunciation, intonation and fluency.
Vocabulary	Bonjour, salut, au revoir, je m'appelle..., j'ai... ans, ça va ?, je suis..., j'ai..., j'aime..., je n'aime pas..., c'est...	Je voudrais..., j'aime..., je n'aime pas..., c'est..., où vas-tu ?, je vais à..., tournez..., allez tout droit, quel temps fait-il ?, il fait..., c'est combien ?	Il/Elle est..., il/elle a..., il/elle n'est pas..., il/elle n'a pas..., je voudrais..., je vais..., on va..., j'aime..., j'adore..., je déteste..., d'abord, ensuite, enfin	Je préfère..., parce que..., mais, et, je vais..., on va..., qu'est-ce que tu fais ?, qu'est-ce que tu vas faire ?, je voudrais..., c'est combien ?, combien de... ?, à quelle heure... ?

Reading and Writing

	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Year 6
Substantive knowledge & Skills	I can recognise and understand familiar written words and simple phrases. I can match familiar written words to pictures, objects or meanings. I can read familiar words and phrases aloud with increasing accuracy. I can recognise some links between French sounds and their written forms. I can copy familiar French words and short phrases accurately. I can use a model to write a simple phrase or sentence. I can spell some familiar words from memory. I can use the French alphabet to help me spell and understand unfamiliar words. I can use simple written vocabulary to give information about myself, my family or familiar topics.	I can read and understand familiar sentences on topics I have studied. I can identify key information in a short written text. I can use context and familiar vocabulary to help me understand a simple text. I can read familiar French aloud with increasingly accurate pronunciation and intonation. I can write familiar words, phrases and short sentences from memory. I can use a written model to construct and adapt my own sentences. I can write simple sentences about familiar topics, including activities, food, places and opinions. I can use simple conjunctions to join words and ideas. I can check familiar spellings using classroom resources.	I can read and understand short texts containing familiar vocabulary and structures. I can identify the main idea and some specific details in a short written text. I can use context, grammatical knowledge and familiar vocabulary to work out the meaning of some unfamiliar words. I can recognise familiar positive and negative forms in written French. I can recognise whether a written sentence refers to the writer or another person. I can write a sequence of related sentences about a familiar topic. I can adapt familiar sentence structures to communicate different information. I can use adjectives, negatives and simple conjunctions in my writing. I can write about people, places, school, holidays and everyday activities using familiar language. I can use a bilingual dictionary or other appropriate resource to check vocabulary and spelling.	I can read and understand increasingly extended texts containing familiar language. I can identify the main points and specific details in a written passage. I can use context, grammatical knowledge and word families to infer the meaning of some unfamiliar language. I can recognise familiar language referring to present activities and future plans. I can recognise opinions, preferences and simple reasons within a written text. I can write a short, coherent passage about a familiar topic. I can organise a sequence of sentences using conjunctions and sequencing language. I can express and justify opinions in writing. I can write about present activities and future plans using familiar structures.

				I can adapt previously learned language to write for a new but familiar purpose. I can review my writing and use appropriate resources to improve vocabulary, spelling and accuracy.
Vocabulary	Je m'appelle..., j'ai..., je suis..., j'aime..., je n'aime pas..., ma mère, mon père, mon frère, ma sœur, dans, sur	Je voudrais..., j'aime..., je n'aime pas..., c'est..., je vais..., et, mais, d'abord, ensuite, enfin	Il/Elle est..., il/elle a..., il/elle n'est pas..., il/elle n'a pas..., je vais..., on va..., j'aime..., je préfère..., et, mais, parce que	Je vais..., on va..., j'aime..., je n'aime pas..., j'adore..., je déteste..., je préfère..., parce que..., et, mais, d'abord, ensuite, enfin

Grammar and Language Structures

	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Year 6
Substantive knowledge & Skills	I can recognise that French nouns can be masculine or feminine. I can use un and une with familiar nouns. I can use simple first-person phrases, including je suis, j'ai and j'aime. I can use il/elle to refer to another person. I can recognise that adjectives can change depending on the noun or person they describe. I can place some familiar adjectives correctly within a simple phrase or sentence. I can use simple prepositions, including dans and sur. I can recognise and use simple negative forms in familiar phrases. I can recognise that French word order and sentence structures are sometimes different from English.	I can recognise and use a growing range of masculine and feminine nouns. I can recognise and use definite and indefinite articles with familiar nouns. I can use je with a range of familiar verbs to talk about what I do. I can form simple questions using familiar question structures. I can use ne...pas to make familiar statements negative. I can use adjectives to describe people and things and recognise that some adjectives change according to gender. I can use je voudrais to make a polite request. I can use à with familiar places and times. I can use simple conjunctions and sequencing words to connect ideas. I can adapt a familiar sentence structure by changing a noun, verb, adjective or other detail.	I can use avoir and être in familiar first- and third-person forms. I can distinguish between je, il and elle when speaking and writing. I can form positive and negative statements using familiar verbs. I can use adjectives with increasing awareness of gender and agreement. I can recognise and use different forms of à with familiar places, including au, à la and à l'. I can use familiar question forms to find out information. I can use conjunctions to extend sentences and give simple reasons. I can use sequencing language to organise a series of actions or ideas. I can use aller + infinitive to talk about future plans. I can adapt familiar grammatical structures to create new sentences.	I can select and use familiar first- and third-person verb forms appropriately. I can use positive and negative forms with a growing range of familiar verbs. I can use nouns and adjectives with increasing accuracy, including familiar patterns of gender and agreement. I can use articles and prepositions appropriately within familiar language structures. I can form and respond to a range of familiar questions. I can use conjunctions to extend sentences and connect ideas. I can use parce que to give a reason for an opinion. I can use time expressions and sequencing language to organise spoken and written language. I can use aller + infinitive to talk about future intentions and plans. I can recognise and use familiar language referring to present activities and future plans.

				I can manipulate familiar vocabulary and grammatical structures to create increasingly independent sentences. I can use my knowledge of familiar grammatical patterns to check and improve the accuracy of my spoken and written French.
Vocabulary	Un, une, le, la, je, j'ai, je suis, j'aime, je n'aime pas, il, elle, dans, sur	Le, la, les, un, une, des, je, ne...pas, je voudrais, à, et, mais, d'abord, ensuite, enfin	Avoir, être, j'ai, je suis, il/elle a, il/elle est, ne...pas, au, à la, à l', aller, je vais, on va, infinitive, et, mais, parce que	Je, il, elle, on, avoir, être, aller, ne...pas, adjective agreement, preposition, conjunction, infinitive, je vais, on va, parce que, et, mais, d'abord, ensuite, enfin